TO THE TEACHER:

The school broadcasts outlined in this manual have been prepared by authorities in the various subject areas in consultation with classroom teachers. Every effort has been made to make the broadcasts valuable contributions to your teaching programme. Their effectiveness in the learning situation depends on the use which you as classroom teachers make of them.

BEFORE THE BROADCAST:

1. Study the outlines in this manual closely. Choose only the series which you feel can contribute most to the grades and age levels of your class.
2. Place the radio where you get the best reception with the minimum amount of volume. Tune in the station before broadcast time, then reduce the volume until the programme starts.
3. Create a good classroom atmosphere for effective listening.
4. Some broadcasts require substantial preparation. Others require only careful listening. Prepare your class accordingly.

AFTER THE BROADCAST:

1. Develop a worthwhile and varied method of clinching and correlating the lesson material presented.
2. Suggested activities may include: story telling; group discussion; diaries; related reading; related art work; committee assignments; map work.
3. Discuss the broadcasts as a radio presentation. Train your students to listen critically and with discrimination.
4. Films bearing a code number may be secured from the Audio-Visual Education Branch, Department of Education, 559 Jarvis Street, Toronto.
5. Filmstrips may be purchased from any of the dealers listed in the Visual Education catalogue. Do NOT apply to the Audio-Visual Education Branch for filmstrips.

NATIONAL SCHOOL BROADCASTS
Fridays, 11:00–11:30 a.m.

At various places throughout this radio manual, brief outlines of several National School Broadcasts are given. All of these programmes are planned and presented by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation upon the recommendation of the National Advisory Council on School Broadcasting. The Council is composed of delegates from the Provincial Departments of Education, the Conference of Canadian Universities, the Canadian Teachers' Federation, the National Federation of Home and School and Parent-Teacher Associations, the Canadian Trustees' Association, and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. The purpose of these broadcasts is to strengthen the sense of Canadian citizenship among our boys and girls at school.

Once again the national schedule includes programmes covering a variety of topics for a wide range of grades. Such established favourites as "Voices of the Wild" and "Behind the News" are included, along with new series in the area of social studies and music.

Details of the National School Broadcasts for both radio and television are contained in the teachers' manual "Calling Young Canada". This year only one manual for the complete year is being issued. Copies of these booklets may be secured from the local Board of Education or the Elementary School Inspector. Schools not receiving copies should contact the School Broadcasts Department, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, 354 Jarvis Street, Toronto, or the Audio-Visual Education Branch, Department of Education, 559 Jarvis Street, Toronto.

PRIMARY DIVISION

PRIMARY STORIES

Primary Division (Kindergarten — Grade 3)

Mondays, 11:00–11:15 a.m.

"Give us books," say the children, "give us wings. You who are powerful and strong, help us to escape into the faraway. Build us azure palaces in the midst of enchanted gardens. Show us fairies strolling about in the moonlight. We are willing to learn everything that we are taught in school but, please, let us keep our dreams."

— Paul Hazard, in "Books, Children and Men".

The stories have been chosen to provide just "such stuff as dreams are made of", and to bring good books and children more closely together so that they too may feel as Bacon did that "reading is for delight".

COMMUNITY HELPERS

Primary Division (Grades 1–3)

Thursdays, 11:00–11:15 a.m.

The "Community Helpers" series is designed to aid primary teachers in presenting the helpers of the community to their classes. The dramatization of these helpers in a typical working day will be useful in making their services more meaningful to the pupils.

The first three broadcasts will be most valuable to Grades 1 and 2. The following three broadcasts will be aimed more at a Grade 3 level.

During the broadcasts, the following teaching facts will be developed:

(a) The manner in which the helper performs his particular service to the community.

(b) The understanding that these helpers are fathers of other children, who, like their fathers, work for a living.

(c) Where the helper carries out his services—his store, station, office or his main headquarters, and the various places he might visit during a typical day's work.

(d) The tools, materials, equipment or uniforms used by the helper.

(e) A general knowledge and understanding of the fact that these community helpers are important people who perform services to help us live safely and happily in our homes.

Each programme in the series will emphasize the facts concerning the physical size, natural environment and habits of one of these animals. PRIMARY SCHOOL MUSIC

Primary Division (Grades 1–3)

Mondays, 11:15–11:30 a.m.

Commencing January 7, 1963, a series of five broadcasts especially prepared for the little folk in Grades 1 to 3 inclusive will be presented. Each programme will include class singing and rhythmic response by pupils, as well as suitable music illustrated by piano and voice.

CHILD LIFE IN OTHER LANDS

Primary Division (Grade 3)

Thursdays, 11:00–11:15 a.m.

During this series of five fifteen-minute broadcasts, the countries of Switzerland, Egypt, India, Japan, and Mexico are to be visited. In each broadcast reference will be made to several of the following topics: music, schooling, games, language, food, main geographic features of the country, clothing, and outstanding customs.

It should be noted that the similarities of children throughout the world are being stressed. The suggestion is that we encourage the pupils to recognize similarities, and to admire, or at least to understand, the differences. Within each country emphasis will be placed upon the differences between rural, and urban life.

An attempt has been made in selecting the countries to have a tour of the world completed by the end of the series. Although this may not be emphasized in the programmes, the classroom teacher might find it helpful in globe instruction.

Before the broadcast — suggested discussion:

(a) the differences between our rural and city life,
(b) the geographic location, preferably on a globe, of the country to be visited,
(c) how one could reach this country,
(d) personal knowledge, or contacts within the class associated with the country.

After the broadcast — discuss:

(a) how the country was reached,
(b) how long it took to get there,
(c) the similarities, and the differences between our country, and the one visited, and the differences between urban and rural life within that country.

Primary Division (Grade 2)

Thursdays, 11:00–11:15 a.m.

There are five broadcasts in this series each dealing with a specific area of safety —on the road, in the school, in the home, in the country, and in the water. A positive approach is suggested and life situations are dramatized in which adults and children participate. Further dramatization and discussion are essential during the follow-up period to reinforce the teaching in the broadcast lesson.

Other suggested follow-up activities include the production of safety letters, newspapers, and magazines, poster displays, competitions, model displays, and writing and producing a play.

CURRENT EVENTS

Junior and Intermediate Divisions (Grades 6–8)

Thursdays, October 4 to April 11, 11:15–11:30 a.m.

The Current Events broadcasts are presented to aid teachers in their current events lessons. Four or five new topics are treated in each programme. Frequently, interviews or recorded actuality descriptions of news events as they happen are used during the broadcasts. In addition to helping to interest students in the news, and giving them background information, these programmes should assist them to develop the capacity to select, evaluate, and analyse the news.

Teachers wishing to secure maximum benefits from this series are advised to encourage their students to prepare the news scrapbooks as suggested during the programmes. It will be helpful, also, if each member of the class has an atlas or geography text on his desk throughout the current events period. Labelled cardboard markers inserted at each of the principal maps will facilitate their use. Also, one or more of the periodicals listed below will prove valuable to teachers of current events.

PLANET EARTH

Intermediate Division (Grades 7–8)

Mondays, 11:00–11:15 a.m.

No part of the universe is more challenging to our curiosity than our own planet. Although there is much we already know about the earth, there is a great deal more to be discovered. As we travel over the earth's surface we see the land, and water, the towering peaks, and flat plains, the deep canyons, and the peaceful hills. We take things for granted until we are affected by a flood, an earthquake, or a water shortage. Then we, too, wonder about our planet home—how it came to be, what is happening to it now, and what the future may bring. This series of five programmes considers the formation of the earth, its changing surface, and its resources.

No. 1 January 7 ..... DOWN TO EARTH

The first programme will deal with various theories regarding the formation of the earth, the age of the earth, and how the changing earth created conditions suitable for the development of various forms of life.

No. 2 January 14 ..... OUR EARTH CHANGES

The earth's surface is continually changing. The struggle between the building up forces (volcanoes, folding, etc.) and the wearing down forces (erosion by wind, water, etc.) will be treated using Ontario examples as far as possible. Rock changes including igneous, sedimentary, and metamorphic types will be discussed.

No. 3 January 21 ..... NATURE'S JEWEL BOX (ROCKS AND MINERALS)

The topics covered on this programme will include the difference between rocks, and minerals, tests for mineral identification, the value of minerals, and how we can make some mineral crystals in the classroom.

No. 4 January 28 ..... WATER, WATER, EVERYWHERE

Water not only aided in creating conditions necessary for life, but continues to maintain life. The uses, sources, purification, and conservation of water will be included on this programme.

No. 5 February 4 ..... YOUR LAND AND MINE (CONSERVATION)

Taking a general look at our resources, the final programme will consider non-renewable resources, those difficult to renew, and those which can be renewed easily.
